Building Beavers (Pull Ahead Books) By Kathleen Martin-James

Responding to the call of educators for easy-to-read nonfiction for younger students, Lerner created the Pull Ahead Books series. With higher-level thinking questions built into each text, this innovative series engages new readers in their own learning. A map activity, animal-body diagram, short glossary, and Hunt-and-Find (pre-index skills) section are included. Supports the national science education standards Unifying Concepts and Processes: Systems, Order, and Organization; Unifying Concepts and Processes: Form and Function; Science as Inquiry; and Life Science as outlined by the National Academics of Science and endorsed by the National Science Teachers Association.

Editorial Review

From School Library Journal

PreS-Gr 2-Both titles introduce children to the physical characteristics, behaviors, and habitats of a North American species. The books do a nice job of conveying the animals' traits as well as their daily routines. Both books have two to three lines of lively text per page. On each page, a clear, full-color photograph complements the narrative. Italicized words are found in the glossaries. Range maps and labeled, full-color illustrations of the creatures make these small volumes good introductions for young naturalists and animal lovers.-Michele Snyder, Chappaqua Public Library, NY
