Mankind's ascendancy is being decided on Jupiter

In the 22nd century, mankind has assimilated the Solar System within the orbits of the inner planets, and is gradually moving further out, beyond the asteroid belt, towards the outer planets.

The recently discovered technology of remote manipulation has given people the capability of altering the orbit of planetary-size celestial bodies, laying the foundation of a new era for the human race: the terraforming age. The colonisation of space beyond the limits of the Solar System has become only a matter of time.

Soon after the first successful test, changing Mercury's orbit, a strange object moving from the depths of space towards the centre of the Solar System enters the field of vision of a telescope at an observatory in Chile...

Editorial Review

Review

5* "This is one of the most realistic sci-fi's that I've ever read, which I absolutely love about it" ...The author definitely knows the technology well, and gives very good description of the surroundings and tools they use.

--Adrian Evans

4***

As a science nerd, I like the detail the author goes into about the astronomical details, how they found the 'object,' and how they communicate with it.

--Gregory R. Morris

5* "We can only hope that, should such an event occur, our government and the powers that be will let people with such knowledge take precedence over the politics of that day."

--Sam McGraner

5* "Sartison is a master of suspenseful science fiction."

--Meghan, Top 500 reviewer
