From the Author

Interview with the Author from USAToday.com:

You are a fan of classic literature, so I have to wonder: Is there a hidden homage to a favorite book or author in Sacrificed?

Emily: Well, the entire inspiration for Clio and her powers was drawn from Cassandra, the prophet in Greek mythology. While Cassandra is given the power to foresee the future, she is cursed to have no one believe her. This often drives her mad, and worse, she's unable to prevent even her own murder. I kept stumbling across her in different Greek texts, and each time I wondered what it would be like if this tragic figure was replaced by someone empowered.

About the Author

Emily Wibberley grew up in the South Bay where she spent her formative years battling zombies on her Xbox, watching Buffy the Vampire Slayer, and voraciously reading everything from The Hunger Games to Jane Austen, where her love for feisty young heroines was born.

After graduating from Princeton University Magna Cum Laude in 2014, she began writing. Her debut novel, Sacrificed, was named a finalist in the Young Adult category of the 2015 International Book Awards, the Young Adult category of the 2015 Beverly Hills Book Awards, and in the Young Author category of the 2015 Next Generation Indie Book Awards. Since its release, Sacrificed has spent two years as a Kindle Top Ten Teen & Young Adult Bestseller.

Her next book is UPSTAGED, a contemporary YA novel that she co-wrote with Austin Siegemund-Broka. Published by Puffin, UPSTAGED is coming to bookstores Summer 2018.

When she isn't reading the latest YA book, Emily enjoys watching kick-butt action movies with her two rescue German Shepherds, Hudson and Bishop, named after characters from James Cameron's Aliens.
